REQUEST FOR PROPOSALS FOR COORDINATION OF A STATEWIDE COLLABORATIVE JOURNALISM PROJECT IN MONTANA
The Montana Newspaper Foundation seeks proposals from an experienced editor or news organization to coordinate an enterprising, statewide collaborative journalism project among Montana's newspapers. The Foundation and the entered into an agreement with the Solutions Journalism Network to oversee expansion of the Montana Gap Project with the hope of building the capacity for ongoing, collaborative, solutions-oriented reporting across the state. The Foundation seeks a Project Coordinator to effectively lead the initiative and invites proposals from experienced editors and new organizations to oversee the effort.

ANTICIPATED WORK
Project Scoping
The Foundation and the Project Coordinator will convene a working group of newsroom collaborators to determine the project focus and parameters. The Foundation and the Project Coordinator will identify key participants in the project, sound them out for potential enterprising topics, and create an inspiring dialogue to bring newsrooms together to ultimately determine the focus and the specific components of the project. The Project Coordinator will ensure the project parameters and ultimate goals of the project are clearly defined and formally documented. Oversight of Content Creation and Publication
The substantive goal of the project is to publish significant, influential, enterprising journalism across the state of Montana, and the Project Coordinator will oversee the reporting done by the collaborators, ensuring they stay on schedule, produce high quality work, and maintain a cooperative spirit. The Project Coordinator will ensure successful publication of the content created to maximize potential benefit to Montana newspapers and Montana citizens.

Recommending Potential Subgrants
As the project develops, the Foundation anticipates that key collaborators will pursue additional grants to defray direct project expenses. The Project Coordinator will invite collaborators to submit grant requests, evaluate the grant requests, and make grant recommendations to SJN. The SJN shall make final decisions on grants, and it will administer those awards independently. Reporting Progress and Outcomes
The Project Coordinator will provide regular progress updates. The Project Coordinator will submit a formal report at the project's mid-point and provide a final report on the project's successes and failures.

PROJECT SCHEDULE
Sept. 30, 2019: Project parameters established and clearly documented
Nov. 1 - Mar. 31, 2020: Articles published
Apr. 30, 2020: Final report to SJN, including recommendations, if any, on longer-term strategy
PROPOSAL REQUIREMENTS
Applicants should submit proposals to Montana Newspaper Association Executive Director Matt Gibson at mgibson@mtnewspapers.com by Friday, July 26, 2019. Proposals will be evaluated according to a combination of technical merit and a well-articulated understanding of the Foundation's aspirations. Proposals should include the following components:
·A summary of relevant experience, with a suggested emphasis on collaborative enterprise reporting
·Examples of previous work
·An articulate vision for solutions-oriented journalism
·A strategy for convening potential newsroom collaborators
·A strategy to promote the project's published content
Successful proposals should specify that the applicant meets the following criteria:
·5 years + of producing, editing and publishing enterprising news content;
·Demonstrated ability to work collaboratively;
·Demonstrated capacity to fulfill role of project coordinator
·Access to and knowledge of all necessary software and equipment, including shared communication, word processing and spreadsheet applications.
BUDGET
The Foundation has budgeted $27,000 for coordination of the project. Subgrants to collaborators would potentially provide additional financial resources over and above the
